

Do you know drums also breathe!

When the drum is placed directly under the sky, rain water settles on top of the drum.

When the surrounding temperature rises, the oil expands and air in the drum escapes.

When the oil and surrounding temperature cools down, water is drawn inside the drum, leading to contamination.

Use drum cover to prevent contamination.